

Black String

Contemporary Korean Music in India

Black String aims to create a new sound that internalises a variety of musical expressions in traditional music, as well as harmonises with other expressions in Jazz and World music. The resultant new sound is reinterpreted by artists who embrace traditional music as well as jazz, reflecting composed and improvised creations. The performance focuses on improvisation as an important aspect of Korean traditional music and attempts to create a unique language through Asian intuition and its unique musical idiom. This critically acclaimed Korean group premieres in India in November 2015.

World-music band, Black String was founded in 2011 as part of a government-sponsored Korea-UK cultural exchange program titled "UK Connection" project. The band consists of Yoon-jeong Heo (Geomungo; Six-string zither), Aram Lee (Daegum; Large bamboo flute), Jean Oh (Jazz guitar).

The band made its debut at the Jarasum International Jazz Festival (Korea) and at the London Jazz Festival (UK) in 2012 collaborating with UK artists such as Tim Garland (Saxophone), John Turville (Piano/Keys), Asaf Sirkis (Drums) and Gwilym Simcock (Piano). Since then the band has expanded their musical repertoire by teaming up with prominent Korean artists such as Min-su Kang (Korean Traditional Percussions and vocal), Dongjin Shin (Drums & Percussion), Bora Kim (Korean Traditional Vocal), Min wang Hwang (Ajaeng, Korean Traditional Percussion).
